THE WORD

Today, Peter gives this sage advice for dealing with non-believers: "Always be ready to give an explanation to anyone who asks you for a reason for your hope" (1 Peter 3:15). The hope of Peter's audience was based on complete trust in God. With Paul they believed that nothing could separate them from the love of God (Romans: 8:35-39). Their explanations were to be given in a kindly, patient way accompanied by a virtuous life.

The justice of Jesus, His will to save everyone, led Him to die for all, "the righteous for the sake of the unrighteous" (1 Peter 3:18). The justice of the followers of Jesus is essentially their will to be saved by living in harmony with the will of Christ, loving God and neighbor. Peter has in mind that Jesus fulfills the role of the Suffering Servant of Isaiah 53. He was righteous, "[gave] his life as an offering for sin" (Isaiah 53:10), and brought salvation to all.

"Put to death in the flesh, he was brought to life in the spirit" (1 Peter 3:18). Jesus died in His human nature, but was restored to a glorious existence by the Resurrection. Every believer shares this experience of Christ at Baptism. "We were indeed buried with Christ through Baptism into death, so that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might live in newness of life" (Romans 6:4).
